ABOUT OUR AGENCY

We Are...

Community Interface Services, a non-profit organization based in Carlsbad, California. We serve children and adults with intellectual/developmental disabilities in traditional community based services primarily in San Diego County, with self-determination services available in other parts of the state.

We Believe...

All people, regardless of ability or disability, should be valued and included in society and are in the best position to determine how they want to work, live, and play.

We Support...

Individual choice in community living, employment, social activities, housing, and financial management in natural, inclusive settings such as a person's home, school, work and other community locations.
